

topics & tapas

at Macaulay Honors College

Topics and Tapas is an occasional, informal salon that considers a timely topic over tasty tapas.

Lessons from the Past:
The Evolution of Western Diets & the Origins of Modern Chronic Disease

Monday, April 22, 2013
5:30–7PM

The rise of modern chronic disease shares a parallel history with the evolution of western diets. Join hosts Ann Kirschner, Mary Pearl and Dr. Boyd along with students, alumni and friends of Macaulay to discuss how we might improve health through diet and other integrative ways in the future.

With degrees in medicine and in nutrition, Dr. Boyd is Assistant Clinical Professor of Medicine at Yale Medical School and an Affiliate Member of the Yale Cancer Center. His research areas include environmental risk factors for cancer as well as cancer etiology, including nutrition and the role of insulin. Dr. Boyd is an oncologist and is the Founder and Director of Integrative Medicine at Greenwich Hospital.

rsvp

Autumn Payne at autumn.payne@mhc.cuny.edu or 212-729-2909. Please specify any dietary restrictions.

